The Burglar.

Augustus Thomas' ideal comedy drama "The Burglar" will be presented at the Opera House on Wednesday evening March 16th by the Grismer-Davies company, speaking of the play the San Francisco News Letter says: The four act play which has been built by Mr. Gus Thomas upon and around his dramatization of Mrs. Burnett's sketch, Editha's Burglar, has one cardinal merit—it is genuinely pathetic. The original sketch, which consisted only of the scene between Editha and the burglar—who was not, as far as stated, her father—possessed the great fascination of affording every one with abundant food for imagination. There was no one who read the sketch or saw it acted but what involved from his mind a long story of the burglar's life anterior and subsequent to the episode with the child; and most everyone in this process of mental play-writing, made the child the offspring of the burglar. The purpose of Mrs. Burnett was to work out the burglar's reformation through his contact with the child—vice conquered by innocence. The childish prattle of the little one was the key to the felon's conscience. In his elaboration of this short moral study, Mr. Thomas has followed the most obvious line of ideas. The death of the burglar was a necessity. Not only is the play genuinely pathetic, but it has a vein of comedy running through it in effective contrast, which is genuinely humorous. In construction, the playwright has been skillful and in dialogue decidedly clever. In fact, this play might be said to be one of the few good things our stage owes American pens.
